

AIM International Workshop 17-18 February 2012

Suphachol Suphachalasai: Presentation Summary

This presentation provides an overview of an ADB's technical assistance project Strengthening Planning Capacity for Low Carbon Growth in Developing Asia. The project aims to customize a suite of tools suitable for low carbon economic planning to Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, and Viet Nam. Its activities are planned such that they align with the countries' needs in the context of post-Durban climate conference. The presentation also touches on the project's components, modeling framework, and current status.